Happy International Women's Day!

- The UK ranks 95th in the world for income inequality with women earning on average 45% less than men.

- At least 1 in 5 women in the UK has experienced some form of sexual violence since the age of 16.

- Only 5.7% of reported rape cases in the UK end up in a conviction for the perpetrator.

- There are just 7 female CEOs in the FTSE 100 and only 28% of FTSE companies achieve the target of having at least 33% of their boards being made up of women.

- The UK has a wider than EU average pension pay gap at 43%.

- Women are significantly more likely to be on the receiving end of sex discrimination and harassment at work than men. A study found that 30% of all men say that claims of gender discrimination in the workplace are likely to be overestimated.

Q2. Why did the Labour party not want it to be known to the media that they had organised a party for election night?

Q3. What role did Peter Mandelson play?

Q4. Who 'underestimated how bad it was going to be' for the Conservative Party on election night?

Q5. The Observer published a poll the week before polling day and what did Michael Portillo learn from that poll?

Q6. Who is Sheila Gun and what are her recollections of polling day?

Q7. What are Bruce Anderson from the Spectator's recollections of polling day?

Q8. What did the ITN exit poll show?
